Stratique Supports Save Our Schools Campaign

Stratique Marketing and PR, based in Amington is urging all local businesses to show their support for the Tamworth Herald's Save Our Schools campaign. £100 million in funding has been withdrawn by the Government leaving our children with inadequate facilities.

It is important that we do not underestimate the effect that this will have on local enterprise. These children will be our workforce and new business owners. Without the facilities necessary for a proper education, we are denying our children the opportunity to realise their full potential.

Andrew Wilson, Managing Director, Stratique Marketing and PR said "As a parent and a business owner in Tamworth we are calling on all businesses in the area to help support the Herald in its campaign to save our Tamworth schools. It is so important that we make sure our children have the best possible start in life. After all, these are the future employees of Tamworth businesses and potentially our future entrepreneurs. The parents, teachers and school heads have all been lobbying to secure the funding our children need to fulfil their potential and we all owe it to them to show our support. All you need to do is download the petition and get as many signatures as you can and post it to us. Alternatively call us to arrange collection and we will ensure it gets presented to Christopher Pincher MP for representation"

Stratique have all been busy canvassing local businesses to sign the petition. It is not too late for your business to get involved. Stratique have set up a web page here you can find out more about the plight of each school and download a petition. www.pr.stratique.com/saveourschools

As an extra incentive, they are offering the businesses who gain the most signatures a free Marketing and PR workshop worth £480. Simply send your completed petitions to Save Our Schools, Stratique Marketing and PR, 9 Amber Business Village, Amington, Tamworth, B77 4RP by Thursday 30th September. Alternatively call Stratique on 0845 226 3095 to arrange collection. Stratique will be presenting the completed petitions to Christopher Pincher MP at 2.30pm Friday 1st October outside the Town Hall.
